Future AISN Physicians Practice their Skills! Students in middle school science practiced their precision as they dissected chicken wings to get a better understanding of the relationship between the human and chicken skeletal and muscular systems. Working together, they deskinned the specimen and then proceeded to locate and describe various parts - such as the muscle, tendons, and ligaments. This coming week, students will be dissecting a whole chicken in order to investigate its internal organs.

Elementary students practice being community contributors by voting for their favorite book character! To extend their study of data collection in math, Kindergarten students organized and ran an election for the elementary students who had an opportunity to vote for their favorite book characters. Once the results were in, the Kindergarten class tallied up the totals and graphed the results on paper and on computers.

After-School Activities have begun! Look at all the fun! Quarter 2 activities include: Soccer, Bike Club, Running Club, Dance Class, Homework Club, Fun with French, Drama, Robotics, I-Pad activities, Minute to Win It, Board Games, and Kids Science Club. Thank you to all our teachers who continue to offer such diverse and exciting activities for our students. AISN would also again like to thank the US Embassy for graciously allowing us to continue using their compound for our athletic activities both during and after school hours.

March lunch orders are due by February 28th. March menus were included in last week's Wednesday folder and a copy is attached to the AISN weekly email. Please bring the completed menu and exact change to the office.
